

Construction Certificate

Construction Certificate

Welcome to the NEBOSH Health and Safety Management for Construction (UK) – Constructing Safety for a Safer Tomorrow

Welcome to a focused and empowering journey towards safer, healthier, and better-managed construction sites. The NEBOSH Health and Safety Management for Construction (UK) qualification is one of the most recognised and trusted construction-specific safety qualifications in the industry—designed for anyone responsible for managing risks, coordinating work on site, or influencing construction safety performance.

In today's demanding and high-risk construction environments, ensuring effective health and safety management is not only a legal obligation but a fundamental duty. This qualification provides the practical knowledge, confidence, and capability needed to manage construction risks with clarity and competence—protecting workers, improving project outcomes, and supporting a strong, safety-driven site culture.

At Acadame, constructing safety isn't just our message—it's embedded in everything we do. Our goal is to help construction professionals apply safety principles to every decision, every phase of the build, and every conversation on site. The NEBOSH Construction Certificate equips you to identify hazardous activities, assess risks, and implement meaningful improvements that make a real difference across construction projects of all sizes.

As you begin this journey, you are not just working towards a respected construction qualification. You are joining a community of professionals dedicated to raising standards, protecting people, and shaping safer sites across the UK and beyond. Embrace the learning. Embrace the responsibility. And help construct a safer future for everyone.

Course fees:

£1,595 + Vat

Your fee includes everything required to complete the full qualification, including:

- Classroom-Based Training: Expert-led delivery across CNI unit, designed to build practical competence and confidence.
- NEBOSH Assessment Registration: We register you directly for your assessment:
 - CNI: Managing Construction Health and Safety
- All Learning Materials: Comprehensive resources, supporting documents, and guidance to help you prepare effectively.
- Dedicated Candidate Support: Access to ongoing assistance throughout your learning journey as part of our commitment to constructing safety with your own named Individual Learning Advisor from our Study Success Squad.

10 Day Course

Resit Fees

Most candidates achieve success first time with our structured preparation and expert support. However, if you need to retake any part of the qualification, the following resit fees apply:

- CNI Resit: £280 + VAT

You only pay for the unit(s) you need to retake.

Booking Information

Before confirming your place on a NEBOSH course, please ensure you have reviewed the relevant Terms & Conditions. By booking, you confirm your agreement to these terms:

Acadame Terms & Conditions

- acadame.co.uk/tc

NEBOSH Learner Terms & Conditions

- nebosh.org.uk/policies-and-procedures/learner-terms-and-conditions

Who exactly is NEBOSH?

The National Examination Board in Occupational Safety and Health (NEBOSH) is one of the world's most respected awarding bodies for health, safety, and environmental qualifications. For more than four decades, NEBOSH has been at the forefront of raising global safety standards, helping organisations and professionals build safer, healthier, and more resilient workplaces.

NEBOSH qualifications are recognised internationally and trusted across every major industry—from construction and manufacturing to education, logistics, and the public sector. Their standards are rigorous, their content is current, and their approach is grounded in real-world application. This ensures that anyone achieving a NEBOSH qualification is equipped with the competence, confidence, and practical capability to make meaningful improvements in workplace safety.

By earning a NEBOSH qualification, you join a global community of safety professionals who are shaping safer working environments and driving positive change around the world.

With NEBOSH, you're not just achieving a certificate—you're gaining a trusted foundation for your safety career, developing practical skills that make a tangible difference, and joining thousands of professionals worldwide who are dedicated to shaping safer workplaces.

nebosh

LEARNING PARTNER

GOLD

1800

Why choose Acadame?

Choosing the right training provider is just as important as choosing the right qualification. At Acadame, everything we do is built around delivering high-quality training, exceptional support, and a learning experience that genuinely prioritises your success. This commitment is why we achieved Gold NEBOSH Learning Partner status from day one—a rare recognition that reflects the strength of our systems, quality, and candidate outcomes from the very start.

And we don't just teach best practice. We operate by it.

Acadame is proudly triple UKAS accredited to ISO 9001 (Quality), ISO 14001 (Environmental Management), and ISO 45001 (Health & Safety)—demonstrating that we actively apply the same standards we teach. To our knowledge, no other training providers can make this claim, and it reinforces our belief in practising what we preach.

A Team Dedicated to Constructing Safety

Our combined support model is unmatched across the industry and is a key reason why our candidates achieve such strong results.

Your Named Independent Learning Advisor (ILA)

Every NEBOSH candidate receives a dedicated Independent Learning Advisor who provides one-to-one guidance, structured check-ins, study planning, and continuous support throughout your journey.

Your Study Success Squad

Beyond your ILA, you also benefit from our Study Success Squad—a team of specialists who deliver planned interventions, personalised feedback, proactive communication, and targeted support whenever you need it.

Classroom Training + Free eLearning

To give you every opportunity to succeed, all classroom NEBOSH candidates gain free access to our NEBOSH eLearning modules—purpose-built to reinforce what you learn in the classroom and strengthen your understanding at home. This blended learning approach ensures you can:

- Study flexibly around work and personal commitments
- Consolidate knowledge at your own pace
- Build confidence in CNI
- Maximise your chances of passing first time

Construction Certificate

Overview

Unlock practical, industry-focused knowledge with the NEBOSH Health and Safety Management for Construction (UK) at Acadame. This highly respected construction safety qualification strengthens your ability to manage risk on site, enhances your professional credibility, and equips you with the skills needed to protect people, projects, and organisations across the construction sector.

This modern qualification is built around real construction challenges—covering high-risk activities, legal responsibilities, CDM requirements, and the practical controls needed to manage safe site operations. Through engaging activities, real-world construction scenarios, and interactive learning, you will develop the confidence and competence to apply what you learn immediately on site.

With the support of our expert construction-focused trainers, dedicated guidance from your Independent Learning Advisor, and access to structured eLearning modules, you benefit from a learning experience that is thorough, flexible, and genuinely impactful. This is more than a qualification—it's your opportunity to help your organisation construct safety every day and contribute to safer, more compliant construction projects.

Completing This Course Will Help You

Minimise Construction Site Risks

Develop the knowledge and practical skills to identify hazardous site activities, assess construction-specific risks, and implement proportionate controls—helping reduce incidents, injuries, and ill-health across projects of all sizes.

Improve Workforce Safety and Wellbeing

Create safer, better-managed sites that protect workers, contractors, and visitors. Learn how strong safety leadership improves wellbeing, morale, and site culture throughout every phase of a build.

Strengthen Project Performance

Demonstrate your competence in construction safety management. This qualification helps reduce downtime, prevent costly incidents, improve compliance with CDM 2015, and support smooth, uninterrupted project delivery.

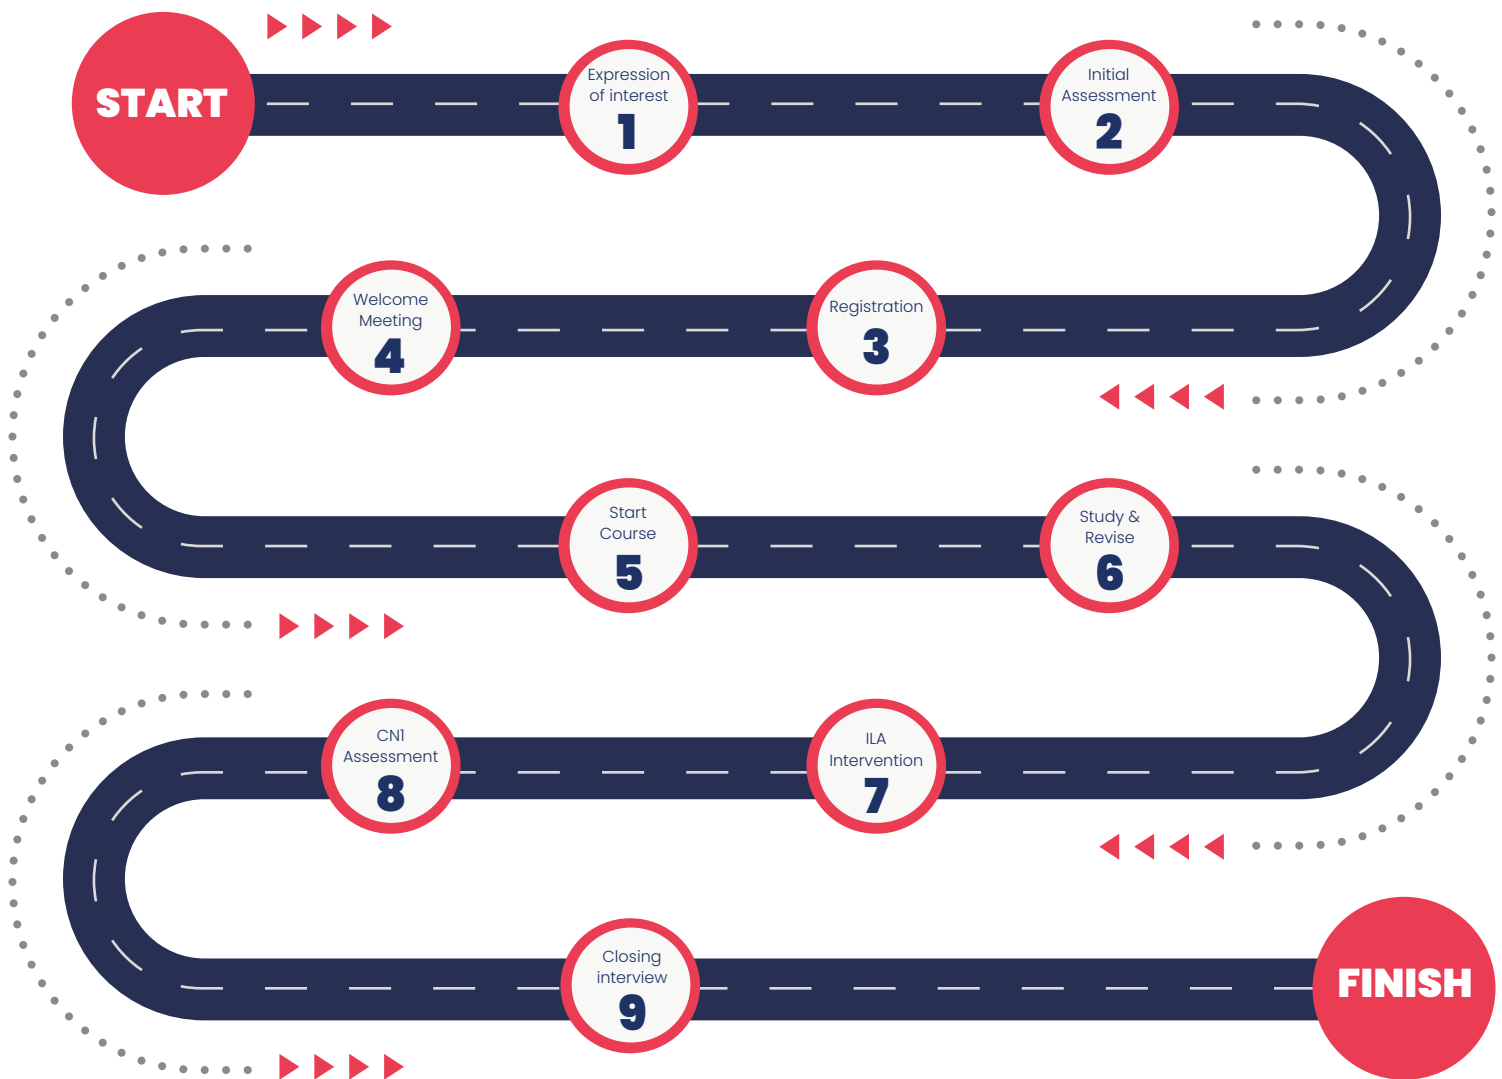

Apply to All Construction Environments

Whether you work on housing developments, commercial builds, civil engineering, refurbishment, demolition, or specialist environments, the principles taught on this course give you the capability to make any construction site safer.

Master Construction Risk Assessment

Risk assessment is central to this qualification. You will learn how to confidently assess construction activities, prioritise risks, justify improvements, and develop clear, practical safety plans tailored to dynamic site conditions.

What to expect?

Your NEBOSH learning journey is simple, supported, and structured:

1. Expression of Interest – Complete our online form to request course details.
2. Initial Assessment – A quick call or meeting to confirm suitability and answer questions.
3. Course Registration – Secure your place on the programme.
4. Welcome Meeting – Online briefing to set expectations and prepare you for success.
5. Start Course – Begin your classroom training and access your free eLearning modules.
6. Study & Revise – Consolidate learning with guided study and revision support.
7. ILA Intervention – Your advisor checks progress and ensures you're ready for assessments.
8. CNI Assessment – Complete your exam with ongoing one-to-one ILA support and feedback.
9. Closing Interview – A simple, friendly discussion to confirm your NGI submission.

 0330-124-2165
 www.acadame.co.uk
 hello@acadame.co.uk

Take the First Step

Ready to strengthen your knowledge and build a safer future? Express your interest today and we'll do the rest.